GOKHALE MEMORIAL GIRLS' COLLEGE

Outcome of the Seminars/conferences/workshops (within 100 words): National Institute of Food Technology Entrepreneurship and Management conducts competitive exams/ quiz sessions every year all over India to select the best candidates for internship at their institute. These candidates get job opportunity at well-established food industries post completion of their internship.

In this webinar, Students were provided the syllabus for the competitive exam and tips on how to crack it. Since it is a very difficult examination, one final year student-Ritika Biswas of the department sat for this competitive exam after taking complete preparation as guided by the webinar session speaker and former successful candidates Anusree Bhowmick, (2019 pass out-currently working as a Food Technologist at Capestone Organic Poultry Ltd. which is a poultry supplier to Amazon, Marks & Spencer, etc.) & Sreya Damani (same batch & currently a Nutrition, Health & Wellness Associate at Nestle India). You tube link for webinar was shared widely with students of other science departments and colleges so that all could benefit.
